COMMENTS AND REASON FOR DECISION

John - You have a great ability to respond to points of the other team.
- Identify the weakest part of your opponent's arg. + go after it... don't get so caught up in the details that you lose sight of the big picture.

Jane - Try not to force the Neg into "Yes or No" answers in CX. It's typically an unfair question + won't help clarify the nuances of their argument anyway.
- Very knowledgeable about your case
- Work on responding directly to the args of the other team

Katherine - Get organized before you start speaking... it will aid your argumentation immensely.
- Don't forget to extend the important parts of your args. that preempted the Aff responses
- You have a natural speaker's voice!
Mary - Excellent job!

I will say I think you went for the wrong Disadvantage in the DNR. While you technically won the round with the China Disadvantage, I think the Aid Tradeoff Disadvantage was the stronger arg. + not handled as well by the Aff.

Reason For Decision

RFD - While the Aff demonstrated a need to implement a plan to solve the problem, the Neg mitigated the Aff plan's ability to solve the problem. They also showed the impacts of the China Disadvantage outweigh the benefit of the plan.
